

Car Paradise - Classic Remise, Berlin

We have just returned from our travels to Germany and Czech Republic on the Elbe on a River Cruise. One of the many nice places that we visited in Berlin, was, "The Classic Remise", a living Car Museum which was a wonderful experience. It is housed in the former tram depot dating from the year 1900.

Here you can find specialist Car and Motorcycle Workshops to refurbish your car or motorcycle to exacting standards including bodywork and repainting.

Service section which includes car cleaning and waxing. There are electricians and other services present such as insurance or classic car rentals.

Car retail shops selling model cars, books, spares and accessories etc.

Classic car sales showrooms selling hundreds of beautiful classic cars, including many good Jaguars and other British iconic cars.

A storage facility of 88 glass boxes for classic car owners to store their cars in a good environment, but the public also have the good view of the vehicles from the ground or from above via purpose built walkways.

There are also rooms for vintage vehicle owners clubs for their regular meetings. Several British models have enthusiasts meeting here.

On site is a Restaurant and Beer Garden a perfect place to plan or dream of your next classic car.

A memorable day for us and it was free to visit .You just wander at your own pace around the refurbished facility.

I took 128 Photographs whilst here of which I have on disc. If you would like to look at them please contact me. I also have some English version leaflets on the place, of which you are welcome to have, if you would like one. Guess who?
